

Kimberly Martin Grantham graduated in 1998 with a B.S. in Interior Design from Texas State University. Her career has focused on communications and instructional design. Upon graduation, Kimberly traveled as a consultant for the Chi Omega Executive Headquarters where she trained undergraduate members in the areas of leadership, recruitment and communications. Chi Omega is the nation's largest women's fraternal organization. Kimberly served the Executive Headquarters in a variety of upper management positions including Director of Extension and Director of Chapter Services. She finished her career with Chi Omega as the Director of Training and Programming where she developed national educational program and corresponding marketing plans for delivery to 20,000 undergraduate members and 220,000 alumnae members. Kimberly was also responsible for the design and content management for three educational websites.

Kimberly lives in Memphis with her husband, Clay, and their three year old son, Jackson. Her hobbies include running, biking, reading, cooking and spending time with her family. She is involved in a variety of community organizations. Kimberly serves as the Training Director for the Junior League of Memphis, is a member of the advisory board for the Chi Omega Fraternity chapter at Rhodes College and serves on the Family Council and Nursery Council at her church. She also serves as a national volunteer on Chi Omega's Convention Team where she develops the educational workshops for conference.
