

ENGL-4601: Poetry WorkshopProf. Marcus Wicker*Mondays & Wednesdays 2:20-3:45pm

ENGL-4601 is an upper-level undergraduate poetry workshop devoted to the creation, revision, and critical analysis of poetry. Building on the skills developed in ENGL-3606 (Poetry Writing), students will study poetry as an art form, working in admiration of its history, difficulty, and depth. The students will write original poems and read collections of poetry with attention to figurative language, form, music, and arrangement. The workshop is a supportive environment where students are invited to encourage and challenge one another as their creative work expands and intensifies. ENGL-3606 (Poetry Writing) is a prerequisite. All are welcome.
