FY2021 Research Book Publications

Beginning this year, the Division of Research & Innovation is tracking publications by our research faculty on an ongoing basis. To view the books published in FY21, follow the link below. Books published in FY22 can be sent to researchdev@memphis.edu.

To view, visit bit.ly/FY21books.

Congratulations to all our authors!

Recognition of Research Support Staff

The Division of Research & Innovation recognizes that the success of our faculty is, in part, thanks to the many pre-award coordinators, research support staff, and individuals across campus who help to ensure the success of the research enterprise at the University of Memphis.

About Scopus H-Index

The University of Memphis subscribes to Scopus, a database of citations and abstracts. An H-index of 40 means, for example, that a scientist has published 40 papers that each had at least 40 citations.
