College of Health Sciences Honors Course Policy

Who is eligible to register for honors courses (M3A/M30/350 sections)?

- Only active members of the Helen Hardin Honors College may register for College of Health Sciences (CHS) honors sections.
- Students who are both Helen Hardin and CHS honors students.

Honors Course Requirements

- Within the first week of classes Monday-Sunday, all students registered in the honors section MUST complete the Honors Project Acknowledgment form within the Honors Module.
 - Failure to complete Honors Project Acknowledgment form by due date will result in the student's administrative withdrawal from the honors section. Students will need to register for the traditional (non-honors) section of the same course.
- Completion of Honors Project (specified by instructor, located in honors syllabus) in addition to all regular class coursework.
 - Failure to complete the honors project, regardless of passing grade status in regular course work, will result in failure of the honors course. Therefore, if students have any concern about completing the honors project, they should drop the honors section immediately and register for the traditional (non-honors) section of the same course.

Additional Honors Course/Contract Policy Information

- Students will earn honors credit if they complete the Honors coursework satisfactorily and earn a grade of A or B in the honors course. If the course is graded plus/minus, a grade of B- is insufficient for honors credit.
- Regarding contracting honors courses, once a student undertakes two contracts without successfully completing either, the student will not be eligible for further contracts.
- If the honors project results in a separate grade being provided as a part of the final course grade, faculty should inform students that the grade within Canvas may not reflect their final course grade, as the honors project may not be able to be factored into the Canvas grade book. Students should talk with the faculty member about their average grade and their standing in the course.

For more information:

Angela Johnson | kjhnsn53@memphis.edu Honors Program Coordinator College of Health Sciences