COURSE REQUIREMENTS

CATALOG DESCRIPTION:

Writing and reporting news and feature stories using both traditional and new media techniques with an emphasis on developing sources and advanced skills.

PREREQUISITE:

JOUR 2121

REQUIRED MATERIALS:

- The Associated Press Stylebook, (New York: Basic Books, 2016). ISBN 978-0-917360-63-3.
Students should have this book from 2121. Earlier editions (2013, 2014 and 2015) are acceptable.
- A smart phone and access to a laptop or a desktop computer. Students cannot rely on using university computer labs. Journalists today need to be in constant contact with the Internet.
- A camera or smart phone for taking digital photographs.
- A clip-on microphone for recording interviews for video and audio. Here's the link on Amazon: https://www.amazon.com/Crystal-Performance-Lavalier-Microphone-Smartphones/dp/B01C2UH40E/ref=sr_1_1?ie=UTF8&qid=1483499713&sr=8-1-spons&keywords=lavalier+microphone+for+iphone&psc=1
- The New York Times available in campus newspaper boxes or digital subscription.

RECOMMENDED MATERIALS:

- Kessler, Lauren and McDonald Duncan When Words Collide: A Media Writer's Guide to Grammar and Style (Thomson-Wadsworth, 2001). Students may have this from Media Writing.
- The Elements of Style Illustrated (Penguin Books, paperback reprint, 2007)

OBJECTIVES

Reporting 3120 develops the skills learned in media writing with increased emphasis on expert sources and alternative story telling. Reporters today need to work in different ways on multiple platforms, so this class integrates more traditional reporting and writing with photography, multimedia, social media and headlines writing. More specific reporting and writing goals for this class include:

- Writing with ease, accuracy, and speed
- Developing sources

- Developing storytelling skills with words and photographs
- Polishing writing mechanics and AP style
- Reporting with social media
- Writing headlines and captions
- Publishing stories in print and/or online
- Building professional online portfolios

ATTENDANCE & DEADLINES

Class attendance is mandatory in the Department of Journalism. This is a professional program for journalists who are expected to understand and comply with deadlines. If you have some problem making it to class on time, make arrangements to fix the problem or consider taking another class. You should consider school to be your job and be on time just as you would for a “real” job.

To allow for illness and other unforeseeable misfortunes, you are permitted three absences in the semester. Any additional absence will result in a penalization of one grade level (e.g., from B+ to B for four total absences, from B+ to B- for five total absences, etc.). Missing a total of seven classes will result in the student failing the course. University policy for excused absences applies to this course. If you must miss class, it is your responsibility to get in touch with me and/or your peers to ask about course content and possible assignments. Any lateness of 10 minutes or less counts as half an absence. Any lateness of more than 10 minutes counts as an absence.

If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to find out from a classmate what is due. Do not count on me to answer messages or emails about missed work. If you are unsure about deadlines, check the eCourseWare dropbox dates. Do not rely on assignment dates printed on the syllabus.

GRADING:

Your grade will be determined according to the following criteria:

Assignments	60%
In-class exercises & Homework	15%
Quizzes	15%
Online portfolio	10%

Assignments

Instructions for all assignments are available in eCourseWare. Exact deadlines are indicated in eCourseWare as well. Late assignments will NOT be accepted. All assignments must be written in third person in a structure that confirms to standard media writing guidelines. All assignments should be uploaded in a Word document, double-spaced with indented paragraphs, 12-point Times New Roman font, and include a date, a byline and a headline. Any assignments that do not follow this format will not be graded and the writer will receive a grade of 0.

Regarding grading, assignments will be graded on content, sources, writing, story structure, word count, grammar, punctuation and AP style. One point may be deducted from story grades for every mistake in AP style, spelling, punctuation and grammar, so edit your work carefully. Further, rewrites that do not include the additional reporting discussed in editing notes will receive lower grades than the original.

Quizzes

You must stay informed about the news and about newsmakers. It is impossible to be a good reporter unless you are informed about local, national and international news, as well as the media industry. You are required to read the New York Times and will be tested each week on the newspaper's content. Quizzes may also include questions about AP style, grammar and course material.

Online Portfolio

At the end of the semester you will have developed a Wordpress website that includes your updated resume, recent work samples and any other pertinent skills.

NOTES AND INSTRUCTIONS:

- Assignments will be completed both in and outside the classroom, so attendance and participation in class are vital. Class time is also valuable for discussions about news and upcoming assignments, so please be on time. Students who arrive more than 15 minutes late will be counted as absent. It is your responsibility to sign the attendance sheet if you arrive late to class.
- Students who need additional help with writing mechanics will be required to attend mandatory sessions (at least four sessions by Spring break) at the university's Writing Center.
- All assignments must be filed to the ecourseware dropbox by midnight (11:59 p.m.) on the day they are due. Late assignments will NOT be accepted. Do not send late assignments to my email. It is extremely important that you recognize the importance of deadlines in news.
- All assignments must be written in third person in a structure that conforms to standard media writing guidelines. Assignments will be graded on content, sources, writing, story structure, word count, grammar, punctuation and AP style. One point may be deducted from story grades for every mistake in AP style, spelling, punctuation and grammar, so edit your work carefully.
- Additionally, 15 points will be deducted for each factual error, such as misspelled names and proper nouns, incorrect dates, etc.
- Rewrites that do not include the additional reporting discussed in editing notes will receive lower grades than the original stories.
- Reporters may publish class stories in the Daily Helmsman, but only AFTER they are graded and rewritten.
- Additionally, all assignments must conform to these specifications: All stories must be filed in a Word document, double-spaced with indented paragraphs, 12-point Times New Roman. All documents must be identified with a date, a byline and a headline. If assignments don't meet these specifications, they will not be graded, and students will receive a zero.
- And finally, assignments for 3120 may involve several components, such as a written story and a multimedia sidebar. You must complete all parts of the assignment to receive a grade. Assignments that are incomplete will not be graded and students will receive a zero.

OTHER ISSUES:

Late work: You're responsible for turning in all projects on the dates they're due. If you cannot make it to class that day, upload your project online and send me a link. In this day and age, there is no excuse. No late work will be accepted, regardless of the reason(s).

Diversity: You will be required to respect the differences of others and treat all persons with respect. Discriminatory, derogatory and threatening language or behavior will not be tolerated. Further, you are expected to consider your work through a diverse mind. For your first assignment, as soon as you finish reading this syllabus, email me a picture of the flag of the country you most want to visit.

Weather policy: Always check with local media and the University of Memphis website regarding inclement weather. If the university is closed or classes are canceled, this course will not meet. However, you may still be responsible for that day's work. Check your emails.

Emails: As a journalism student, you are required to write an extensive amount and adhere to the Associated Press style guide. When writing an email to the instructor, you should always follow the basics of email etiquette (see eCourseWare), I may not respond otherwise. Emailing is not texting.

Plagiarism: Note that plagiarism is unforgivable in journalism. It essentially ends a journalist's career and could also end a student's career. Any plagiarism will result in a failing grade for the course and the responsible student may be referred to the university's Academic Integrity Committee for discipline.

TENTATIVE TIMETABLE

A flexible syllabus is necessary so we can respond to news events as they occur in real time. Deadlines for assignments may change, so check due dates regularly in eCourseWare.

FIVE PILLARS OF JOUR 3120

- Professionalism: Students learn the skills required to work in media today by practicing more advanced applications of the basics learned in 2121: ethics, deadlines, information gathering, and writing news stories and features. Increasingly, work is evaluated on professional standards. Students learn how to query editors with story ideas and how to publish stories in print and online.
- Writing: Students continue to work on writing mechanics and AP style, but they write more complex stories, learning to integrate national sources, descriptive writing, and statistical information into their work. Students also are introduced to headline writing and caption writing.
- Multimedia: Although students write traditional news stories throughout the semester, they also learn alternative story telling techniques using photography, smart phone apps, and social media. All assignments in 3120 include a multi-media component to bring added value to written work.
- Critical Thinking: Students work independently and as a team to develop story ideas and to target stories for publication. In 3120, they write more complex stories, learning to organize multiple sources and research into both multi-media and traditional print formats. Students also learn to develop trend stories and follow stories from breaking news.
- Media Literacy: Students stay informed about news and the media with social media, phone apps, and local and national newspapers available on campus. Media experts from print, broadcast, and online publications also guest lecture to share professional experiences and opportunities with students.

ASSESSMENT

PROFESSIONAL VALUES AND COMPETENCIES FOR JOUR3120:

- Demonstrate an understanding of professional ethical principles and work ethically in pursuit of truth, accuracy fairness and diversity.

- Students will complete assignments targeted to specific publications.
- Students will complete assignments requiring writing and rewriting.

- Students will take occasional quizzes on textbook content, required readings and/or current events.
- Students will learn about databases they can use for statistics for stories and will complete an assignment using these databases to find specific facts and information.

PROFESSIONAL VALUES AND COMPETENCIES FOR JOURNALISM PROGRAM:

The Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communication requires that, irrespective of their particular specialization, all graduates should be aware of certain core values and competencies and be to

- Understand and apply the principles and laws of freedom of speech and press, for the country in which the institution that invites ACEJMC is located, as well as receive instruction in and understand the range of systems of freedom of expression around the world, including the right to dissent, to monitor and criticize power, and to assemble and petition for redress of grievances;
- Demonstrate an understanding of the history and role of professionals and institutions in shaping communications;
- Demonstrate an understanding of gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation and, as appropriate, other forms of diversity in domestic society in relation to mass communications.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the diversity of peoples and cultures and of the significance and impact of mass communications in a global society.
- Understand concepts and apply theories in the use and presentation of images and information;
- Demonstrate an understanding of professional ethical principles and work ethically in pursuit of truth, accuracy, fairness and diversity;
- Think critically, creatively and independently;
- Conduct research and evaluate information by methods appropriate to the communications professions in which they work;
- Write correctly and clearly in forms and styles appropriate for the communications professions, audiences and purposes they serve;
- Critically evaluate their own work and that of others for accuracy and fairness, clarity, appropriate style and grammatical correctness;
- Apply basic numerical and statistical concepts;
- Apply tools and technologies appropriate for the communications professions in which they work.

ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT LEARNING FOR JOURNALISM PROGRAM:

The Council seeks to promote student learning and encourages experimentation and innovation.

Assessment is a system of evaluation of student learning at the course or unit level (as opposed to grading at the individual level). Three criteria should guide assessment of student learning:

- Awareness: familiarity with specific information, including facts, concepts, theories, laws and regulations, processes and effects.
- Understanding: assimilation and comprehension of information, concepts, theories and ideas.
- Application: competence in relating and applying skills, information, concepts, theories and ideas to the accomplishment of tasks.

DEPARTMENT POLICIES

PORTFOLIO REQUIREMENT:

All students in the Department of Journalism and Strategic Media are required to develop and maintain an active portfolio of their work. Students are to begin the portfolio in JOUR 2121 and contribute to it from every course thereafter. The portfolio should contain samples of the student's work from his/her courses and/or professional experience and should develop as the student builds skills. Portfolios will undergo a final, external review while students are enrolled in the capstone course for their majors.

Students may use any type of web hosting for their portfolios, but it must have an independent and professional URL. The department requires students to use WordPress to build their portfolio sites. Students are encouraged to consider purchasing a URL and hosting if they plan to use the portfolio for a long term, but must keep the portfolio active for six months following graduation from the University of Memphis.

Students should have a professional email address they plan to use throughout their professional life, via a common email service, such as Gmail or Yahoo.

All portfolios must contain the following items:

- Samples of work from courses and/or professional activities. (Example: Broadcasting students must include a video reel)
- A current résumé
- A personal profile
- Contact information/means of contact
- Social media links

Students might wish to include a blog, video reels, photograph galleries, SoundSlides presentations, design PDFs, audio files, and Storify pieces as examples of professional work. The professional work should ultimately be tailored to the career the student seeks after graduation. Thus, each student's portfolio should show a unique blend of work.

EMAIL:

You must have your UM email account activated. If you are using another provider such as Google, you are required to have your UM email forwarded to that account. Go to the <http://iam.memphis.edu> website to implement forwarding of UM email. You are required to check your email daily. You are responsible for complying with any email sent to you by your professor or the University.

MOBILE PHONES AND LAPTOPS:

Some classes require a tablet, laptop or a smartphone. Others do not. Your instructor will set the policy for her/her specific class.

ATTENDANCE:

Class attendance is mandatory in the Department of Journalism and Strategic Media.

You may be assigned a failing grade for the semester for nonattendance, or habitual late arrival. No late work will be accepted without prior arrangements, which are acceptable to your professor. Students may not be permitted to make up any missing work unless it is for an absence due to illness or other catastrophic emergency such as a death in the family that can be documented (e.g. with a doctor's note or a copy of the newspaper obituary). This is a professional program for journalists who are expected to understand and comply with deadlines. If you have some problem making it to class on time make arrangements to fix the problem or consider taking another class. You should consider this class your "job" in the educational process and be on time just as you would elsewhere.

CHEATING:

In addition to university-wide policies stated in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities, the Department of Journalism considers making up quotes from sources, turning in substantially the same assignment for credit in two different courses, or a student receiving any assistance from others for work assigned to be done on his/her own, as acts of cheating punishable to the degree determined appropriate by the course instructor and department chair. That may include grade reductions or seeking dismissal of the student from the university.

Further, as this is a journalism/mass communication class, students are expected to comply with copyright law, and must have sufficient permission to use any copyrighted materials used in creative projects, unless otherwise informed in cases of exercises or reproduction.

"Your written work may be submitted to Turnitin.com, or a similar electronic detection method, for an evaluation of the originality of your ideas and proper use and attribution of sources. As part of this process, you may be required to submit electronic as well as hard copies of your written work, or be given other instructions to follow. By taking this course, you agree that all assignments may undergo this review process and that the assignment may be included as a source document in Turnitin.com's restricted access database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism in such documents. Any assignment not submitted according to the procedures given by the instructor may be penalized or may not be accepted at all." (Office of Legal Counsel, October 17, 2005)

ONLINE SETEs:

You are urged to complete the SETEs evaluation of this course. Once your instructor has posted your grade, you can immediately see that grade, provided you completed a teacher evaluation for that class. How to access your evaluation forms: Log in using your UUID and email password; click on the gray "Student" tab; complete an evaluation for each course listed and hit the "Submit" button at the bottom of the form. It will only take a few minutes of your time. We take the evaluations very seriously and use them to improve courses and instructional quality. Your feedback is essential and will be appreciated.

DEADLINES:

Remember there's a reason "DEAD" makes up half the word "deadline." All deadlines are firm. This is journalism and strategic media. If you get into trouble, talk to your instructor. Exceptions will be made for reasonable circumstances if the student notifies the instructor prior to the due date.

AP STYLE AND GRAMMAR:

All written work in this class should follow the AP Stylebook and accepted rules of grammar and punctuation. If you don't know the style for a particular phrase, look it up or ask your classmates or the instructor.

DISABILITY:

Any student who feels s/he may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact me privately to discuss your specific needs. Please contact the Office for Disability Services at 901-678-2880 in 110 Wilder Tower Hall to coordinate reasonable accommodations for students with documented disabilities.

DIVERSITY:

Students are required to respect the differences of others and treat all persons with respect. Discriminatory, derogatory and threatening language or behavior will not be tolerated. Further, students are expected to consider their work through a diverse mind. Mass communications reach a mass audience, and students should be aware of how those messages are received by a diverse audience.

WEATHER POLICY:

Always check with local media and the University of Memphis website regarding inclement weather. If the university is closed or classes are canceled, this course will not meet. However, students will still be responsible for that day's work.
