Legislating Fear: Banning Trans Youth Gender-Affirming Medical Care (in progress). This article compares current anti-transgender legislative actions with the anti-gay/lesbian political actions of the mid-twentieth century. It then examines the current wave of state laws banning gender-affirming care for trans youth, analyzing the circuit split over the proper level of judicial review under an Equal Protection analysis and whether the bans interfere with parental rights in violation of the Due Process Clause. Next, the article explores the scientific research regarding the risks and benefits of gender-affirming care for minors and the unanimous support from all major medical organizations identifying gender-affirming care as potentially life-saving. Finally, the article analyzes the impact on trans minors, their families, and healthcare professionals when state legislators usurp parental control and disregard medical best practices and recommends avenues to combat care denial and the dissemination of disinformation and misinformation.

303 Creative & the Supreme Court’s “Expressive Free Speech” License to Discriminate (in progress). This article examines the Supreme Court’s 2023 ruling in 303 Creative, LLC v. Elenis addressing the intersection of state anti-discrimination public accommodation laws and businesses that want to discriminate based on religious values. The decision, in effect, created a First Amendment free speech exception for businesses engaged in expressive conduct to legally disregard public accommodations laws and openly discriminate when a business disagrees with the message – here, same-sex marriage. The article addresses the consequences of the decision and focuses on the rationale behind the Court’s majority and dissenting opinions.

Deviant to Dignified: Lavender Scare to Lawfully Married (working title) (in progress) (to be published in Northern Kentucky University’s Law Review, Symposium edition 2025). This article analyzes the events that took place in just over six decades to transform the mid-twentieth century perception of gays and lesbians as “deviant” sex perverts banned from federal government employment into “dignified” human beings worthy of the same constitutional marital rights as their cisgender peers. It examines the social and legal history of gays and lesbians during the Lavender Scare through the 2016 Obergefell decision, including an analysis of the impact of societal views on court decisions, why those views changed over time, and lessons available from this drastic transformation.

Boosted by Bostock: LGBTQ Title IX Protections (publication forthcoming, Indiana Law Review, Spring 2025).

The Battle Over Bostock: Dueling Presidential Administrations & the Need for Consistent & Reliable LGBT Rights, 32:1 Am. U. J. Gender Soc. Pol’y & L. 1 (2023).

Title VII Discrimination Protections & LGBT Employees: The Need for Consistency, Certainty & Equality Post-Obergefell, 6:2 Belm. L. Rev. 1 (2019).

Deviant to Dignified: From Campbell v. Sundquist to Tanco v. Haslam – The History & Progression of LGBT Rights & Marital Equality in Tennessee, 83:2 Tenn. L. Rev. 371 (2016) (with Abby Rubenfeld).

Modern Legal History 2015: The Road to Obergefell, 3:9 Belm. L. Rev. 165 (2016).
